

Professional reorientation

In collaboration with the 4you network, we specialise in providing personalised, supportive coaching that not only helps you with your job search, but also enables you to utilise the change long-term for your own development. Our outplacement services focus on development, personal responsibility and sustainability.

Benefits

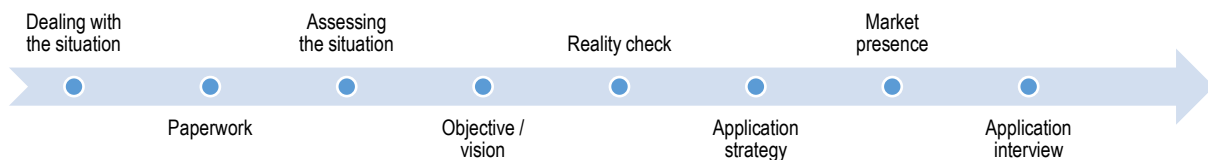

For the company

- Facilitates respectful and responsible employee severances.
- Maintains the company's positive image in the market
- Has a positive effect on the motivation of the remaining workforce

For employees

- Accompanies them during every stage of the severance process
- Provides professional, client-focused support when assessing their situation and helps them to search effectively for the right role
- Offers the opportunity for reflection and personal development

Process overview

Clients' needs throughout the reorientation process are very different and have changed significantly over the last few years. Depending on the client's previous role and their age, level of networking and experience of job hunting, each stage of the process will require more or less time / support.

Services

Basic	Basic service: Employability check (orientation / dossier)
Standard	Consolidated for staff & managers: Enhanced service if required
